Creativity, flexibility, speedy delivery and your photos yours to keep in original format on a disc is what sets us apart from the others...

We will take hundreds of photos throughout the day, so you can rest assured all important moments will be immortalised.

You will get a mix of formal portraits, group photos, candidly captured moments, artistic photos of details and the couple on location with the bridal party.

We love the couple to give us an idea of what will be the most important moments at the wedding, especially if you have special guests, traditions, or surprises on the day.

The price of the basic, digital package includes our time spent at the wedding (as well as the travel time to and from the wedding), the editing process and your photos retouched and delivered to you on a disc in high resolution, print-ready format. We give you full flexibility with the number of hours you would like covered, as well as the choice of locations.

You then have the choice of ordering professionally printed photos through us, or printing them yourself for your friends and family.

Otherwise, choose from our other packages, which include a modern photo book, or a traditional valuable wedding album.
